

Crowdsourcing is the New Black (...but what does it even mean?)

What is Digital Democracy?

- ★ Digital Democracy (or e-democracy) refers to the use of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) to support democratic decision-making in order to enhance democratic institutions and democratic processes.
- ★ It relates to the online activities of governments (administration, representative

★ Three aspects of E-Democracy

Digital Democracy is NOT meant to replace traditional forms of representative democracy, but rather to complement them by adding elements of citizen empowerment and more direct participation.

E-Participation includes...

E-Consultations

E-Petitions

Participatory Budgeting

E-Voting

Crowdsourcing

...And many more

The Case for a Crowdsourcing Pilot at EU level

Problem

62% of Europeans believe their voice does not count in the EU.
41% of EU citizens want to influence decision-making directly.

Needs

Effective mechanisms for engaging citizens (including youth, non-formalised and/or non-mainstream civic groups) in the process of co-producing decisions for Europe.

Strategy

Apply the crowdsourcing method as a complementary tool to expand the number of contributors to EU policy-making, remove potential barriers to participation and “engage the unengaged” throughout Europe.

Assumptions

- Political ‘Window of Opportunity’
- Experience and lessons learnt
- National partners
- EU level alliances
- Potential for engaging youth and the ‘unengaged’

Best Practice Research

- A deliberative tool: all contributions publicly available in real-time
- ‘Wisdom of the crowd’ – hidden expertise revealed
- Strong learning curve
- Increased legitimacy

Influential Factors

- Committed decision-makers
- Informed selection of the subject
- Civil Society support infrastructure (to ensure citizens’ awareness and diversity)

1. EU Policy Fields

Eurobarometer, 2016

QAS What do you think are the two most important issues facing the EU at the moment?
(% - EU)

For a future crowdsourcing experience in the EU in which policy sectors do you think it would be feasible?

🔒 Poll locked. Responses not accepted.
